GEM Committee Seeking Speakers

The Colorado Section's GEM Committee is updating its list of contacts – folks that like, or would like to make presentations to audiences on various mineral-related topics (use of minerals, Colorado mining history, rocks & minerals, your specialty). If you would like to be added to the list as an available speaker, please contact Paul Chamberlin at 303-979-6753 or pdcham@wcox.com with your name, your contact information, the subject(s) you would like to talk about, and if you have a preferred age group (K-12, Jr High, adult, etc). As the GEM group gets requests we will look to the list to find a volunteer that matches that request.

Colorado Mining Association's 114th National Western Mining Conference and Exhibition

The 114th National Western Mining Conference and Exhibition is to be held March 19-22, 2012 at the Westin Tabor Center in Denver, CO. The preliminary program and registration is available on the CMA website at www.coloradomining.org or click here.

Since the Colorado Mining Association's founding in 1876 - the year that Colorado achieved statehood - a diverse and vibrant mining industry has grown throughout the state. Colorado is the nation's number one producer of molybdenum, the fourth leading producer of gold, the 11th ranking coal producer, and the only source of specialty minerals like pure sodium bicarbonate. The conference will provide updates on the latest opportunities in Colorado's diverse mining sector.

Equally important, the conference will also feature Colorado's diverse infrastructure of Colorado based companies whose reach spans the entire globe, with Denver at its core. Colorado based companies have figured in some of the most important corporate, merger and acquisition activities in the entire industry, which the conference will showcase.

So mark your calendars for March 19-22, 2012 and make plans to stay in Denver, the center, the core, the nucleus and heart of worldwide mining, the Mile High Mining Hub

SME Colorado Section - Frequently Asked Questions

1. Do I need to be a member to attend Colorado Section meetings? No, you do not need to be a member to attend the Section meetings, although we highly encourage joining (See Question 2). Some members invite their co-workers or spouses to attend meetings with them.

2. How do I become a member of the Colorado Section? All SME National members living within the geographic boundaries of the Colorado Section are members of the Colorado Section. If you are not a National SME Member, you may sign up to be a member at <http://www.smenet.org/join/>. The Colorado Section solicits section dues from its members to support section activities. Dues are collected over the fiscal year (October – September) and are $25/year. Reminders are sent out annually to all National members via the US Postal Service every August. The Addresses for this mailing are obtained from SME National. If you would like to contribute dues to the section, please print and fill out the form found on the following page and mail it in or bring it to a section meeting.

3. Is it worthwhile to cancel my reservation on the day of the luncheon or dinner? It may be. If there is a Waiting List to attend the function, and the Secretary finds a replacement, and that individual attends the meeting, you will not be responsible for paying for the meal. Advance notice is very helpful in finding an individual to take your place after reservations have closed. No shows or late cancelations will be billed for the cost of the meal.

4. What do my dues and dinner fees go toward? All profits made by the section go toward the Colorado Section Scholarships provided to applicants with career goals in Mining, Civil or Environmental Engineering, Metallurgy, Geology, Geochemistry, or other mining-related disciplines.

5. Why don't I receive mailings from the Section? If you are a paid National and Section member, you may not be receiving mailings for a number of reasons. The SME Colorado Section is provided a membership list created through a portal provided by SME National. If your information is not up to date with them, you will not receive any communications from the Colorado Section. Some individuals request that they not be included in the mailings on their membership profile. If this is the case, contact National about changing your preferences. If your email address has changed or changes, please notify us and National to update your profile. Your Spam may be quarantining the Section's bulk mailing, so it wouldn't hurt to identify the sender of our newsletter as a Safe Sender. Please let us know if you are having difficulties, and we will try to help you solve the problem.
